

British Infection Association Declaration of Interests Form

As an organisation, the British Infection Association is committed to openness and transparency. The potential impact of our work on healthcare practice and education necessitates that members of council and of other association committees and steering groups are conscious of, and declare any interests which may, or may be perceived to, conflict with their role.

Relevant interests may be personal financial (e.g. share ownership in relevant companies, payments of lectures, attendance at advisory boards or sponsored registration at meetings), professional (e.g. commercial research or potential for input to influence available funding to the individual or their team) or 3rd party (e.g. potential conflicts related to the committee member's partner's employment).

This form should list foreseeable potential conflicting interests at the time of completion but if other potential conflicts arise during the course of work for the association, the BIA secretary should be notified of these. The form will be posted in the members' area of the BIA website. In addition, if clear conflicts arise during a meeting or whilst performing another role for the association, the chair or other appropriate lead should be made aware of the interest.

Interests which are current or have been present within the last 3 years should be listed below
